

Advisory & The Collective Power of Community Webinar Series

Part 1: Personal and Community Values: Fostering Strong Relationships*

Navigating our new educational environment has left many youth and adults feeling disconnected and overwhelmed this school year. No matter the landscape (virtual, hybrid or in person), a strong advisory will increase self-awareness, agency, empowerment, and empathy-building. In this webinar series, we will explore individual values and strengths to build caring and collaborative relationships that will positively impact the classroom and the school community. Concrete strategies and a resource guide you can implement immediately will be provided.

Why strengthen advisory now?

Students and educators have all experienced the collective trauma over the past months. Each individual also has their own experiences that impact their connections to their school community. When students develop the skills to recognize, understand, and address their own needs, they are better able to take risks as learners, and are more confident in their abilities to contribute to the learning community.

Purpose

- Increase learner empathy, independence, perseverance, responsibility, and engagement in learning.
- Teach specific skills for leadership, facilitation, and teamwork.
- Strengthen learners' executive function skills and self-regulation practices.
- Explore diversity and individuality through the framework and mindset of equity.

Logistics

Dates: October 29, November 5, November 12 & November 19 (on Zoom)

Time: 4:00-5:15 pm EST

Credit: 1 graduate credit through SNHU and/or 15 PD hours

Cost: $350 (Includes the 4 workshop sessions, a comprehensive resource guide and consultation with UP for Learning faculty)

Registration link:
tinyurl.com/AdvisorySeries1

After completion of Part 1, participants will have the opportunity to enroll in Part 2: Self-Awareness, Communication and Collaboration & Part 3: YPAR (Youth Participatory Action Research) Cycle: Making Positive Change. Dates and times TBD.*

For more information, contact facilitator Sarah Popowicz: sarah@upforlearning.org

Empowering youth and adults to reimagine & transform education together + upforlearning.org

UP for Learning is committed to making our work accessible for all schools and community partners. Please contact us to discuss any accessibility needs for the webinar series: sarah@upforlearning.org