

Personal Power & Community Connections (P2C2)

Unleashing the Power of Partnership for Learning

Infused with hands-on activities, reflection and joy, P2C2 helps create common language, shared experiences and belief in our individual and collective ability to spark positive change in the world.

Components of the P2C2 program:

This program is customized to meet the needs of teams, and consists of in person and/or virtual meetings, half-day retreats and coaching sessions. During the program, teams will engage in activities that explore topics such as listening, resilience, belonging, generosity, mastery, independence, values and empathy. Teams will also be guided through analyzing data and action planning using their own school climate surveys in a process called Youth Participatory Action Research (YPAR).

Who Should Participate?

A representative team of upper elementary or middle school youth and adults who are interested in deepening their understanding of community and exploring how data analysis can be a tool for transformation.

Logistics

School Team Cost: $5,000-$7,500 (based on coaching model)
